Self Watering System

For carefree maintenance of your plants, you can count on the Artevasi H2o system. Use these irrigation systems according to the enclosed instructions and materials provided.

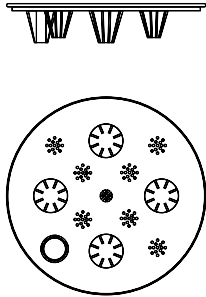

The efficiency of Artevasi's system insures that your plants are absorbing the needed amount of water for maximum plant growth and longevity. It's not necessary to worry about daily irrigation, which allows you to take care of other important tasks. Spending less time with your plants still means an healthy growth.

Self-watering system base

How It Works

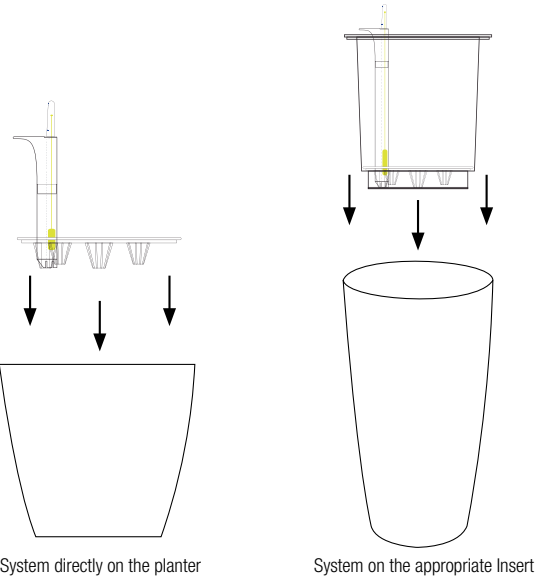

After assembling the H2o system in accordance with the included instruction you can start planting.
For the first watering, pour the water directly over the soil itself and monitor the water level through the level indicator.
Thereafter you should keep the level of the water reservoir controlled by pouring water directly through the filling tube(2).
The green level indicator(1) allows you to see the green water level and shows the recommended minimum and maximum levels of water using the blue lines on the crystal clear tube. When it reaches the maximum level that means that doesn't require more water.
With this system the plant manage it's own intake.
The H2o Artevasi System offers two ways of use depending on the planter. For shapes such as San Remo, Siena and Piza (25 and 40), the irrigation system can be used directly in the planter. In shapes such as Porto Alto, Rimini, Santorini and Piza 60 the same system only works together with the appropriate insert.

TECHNICAL GUIDE

“Colors are the smiles of nature.”

Leigh Hunt

Always connected to the most recent developments in research, development and innovation, Artevasi pioneers on the accreditation of the concept for colour identification developed by ColorADD®. Artevasi implements in its labeling the Universal Code Concept for helping Daltonism, in close relationship with its creator ColorADD®, helping in this way our costumers with color identification difficulties.

Daltonism, or colour blindness, is an inability that affects 10% of the world male sex population - approximately 350 million people in the whole world. This inability, of hereditary condition, is transmitted via the X chromosome. It leads its Daltonic carrier to great constraints concerning his social and professional integration.

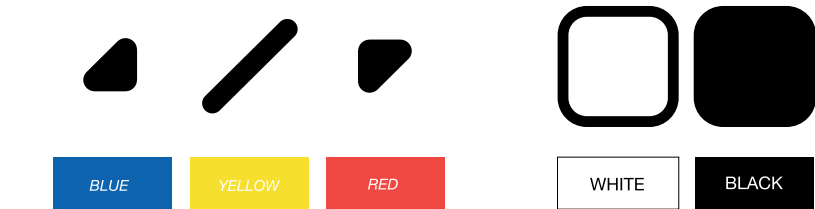

SYMBOLS BUILT WITH COLOR

Developed around the three basic primary colours represented through graphic symbols, ColorAAD code stands on the concept of “colour addition”, allowing the Daltonic to connect the symbols and identify the whole palette. White and Black appear to orient light and dark tonalities. The code becomes a “mental game” simple and easy to memorize and apply on everyday situations.
